FOR SALE.

City Lots and Lands.

FOR SALE—MOUNTAIN SITE—
"COAST QUEEN" OR "QUEEN OF THE COAST," WHICH SHALL IT BE?
Or shall the name be something else—the name of the new hotel that is to be built on the Foy property, Figueroa, Seventh and Orange sts.? Suggestions are now in order.

This is the finest situation for a fine hotel that there is in California today. Figueroa and Seventh—the one running north and south and the other east and west—are the two longest, widest and most highly-improved streets in Los Angeles. The first has for years been the show street of the city, the favorite drive, and is famous the world over for its beautiful residences.

Seventh st., the great east and west thoroughfare, is a close second to it, and Orange is nearly as fine. Both the latter run for a mile or more through a small residential district, one skirting Westlake Park on the north and the other on the south.

This hotel property—or what ought to be hotel property—has a frontage on Figueroa st. of 214.5 feet, on Seventh of 423.3 feet, and on Orange of 47.3 feet. It is big enough for a park, and would afford ideal surroundings for a modern first-class hotel. It fronts on three of the finest streets at the exact point where everything in the best part of the town converges.

High above and sloping gently to these streets it commands a view that is absolutely unequalled—takes in at one sweep the entire city and valley, from the Plaza clear around to the sea. There is nothing available like it anywhere in or about Los Angeles, and to cut it up, or let it be used for any other purpose than a hotel would be a pity. S. K. LINDLEY, 117 S. Broadway, is sole agent for the sale of the property. It can be bought at a bargain.

FOR SALE—LARGE LOTS. CLOSE IN, with lovely orange and English walnut trees, red soil, parties building; satisfactory terms. I will pay you to see owner. WILLIAM NILES, Washington and Broadway, before leaving.

AGAINST THE SWEAT-SHOP SYSTEM.

A recent dispatch states that members of the executive board of the United American Garment Workers met on Saturday evening and ordered a general strike, which, it is said, will involve more than 50,000 men and women. The trades involved include such occupations as those of tailors, pants makers, children's jacket makers, buttonhole makers and others who labor in the production of ready-made clothing, of which such an enormous amount is sold every year in this country at astonishingly low prices. The dispatch adds that the leaders of the movement, in a statement issued, say its object is to compel employers to do away with the sweat-shop system, and to furnish sanitary shops for the employees.

There can be no doubt that, judging from the evidence of entirely trustworthy and unprejudiced observers, who have given the result of their experience to the public, the men and women who work at these trades in the overcrowded tenement houses of New York, Chicago and other large cities have decided grievances against those who employ them—grievances for which they may have found it impossible to secure a remedy, and to which they now call attention by this public protest. There are, in all civilized communities, laws dealing with the sanitary condition of workshops and factories, with the employment of children of tender age, and other matters of this kind, which properly come under the control of a local or State government. Unfortunately, competition in the manufacturing industry is today so keen, especially in the lines above referred to, that employers are sometimes tempted to disregard such just and reasonable laws, in order that they may obtain a small advantage over their competitors, and be able to undersell them. With this question, however, the great American public has nothing to do, except to demand that such laws, which are framed not only in the interest of the workers, but also of the general public, shall be impartially enforced. When professional labor agitators are displaying an inclination to make unreasonable statements, and to stir up trouble between employers and employees, it is especially desirable that employers of labor should be careful in conscientiously regarding the laws which they expect their employees to obey, for in the eyes of the law the millionaire and the mechanic are, and should be, on the same level.

SAN PEDRO HARBOR.

A dispatch from Washington gives a digest of the report of Capt. Meyer, made to the War Department, on the improvement of San Pedro harbor. According to the report, there was available for work upon the harbor on July 1 last an unexpended balance, left over from old appropriations by Congress, of $550,162. It is estimated that there will be needed for the completion of the work from this date $1,194,493, and Capt. Meyer states that there can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year $400,000.

In regard to Wilmington harbor—the inner harbor—there is an appropriation of $50,500 left over from long ago, but on account of provisions by Congress this cannot be expended. No recommendations are made by Capt. Meyer respecting Wilmington harbor in this report, because the War Department engineers made their report and recommendations upon that some time ago, and the report has been submitted to Congress. The amount needed for the improvement of the inner harbor is a moderate one, and would be spread over a number of years. Operations should, however, be commenced without delay, as the work is of much importance in the harbor plan. Indeed, a breakwater without an inner harbor would be something like a house with a roof and no walls.

The members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee who recently visited Los Angeles had a good chance to see for themselves the need of this improvement, and we are justified in expecting that they will do the right thing for this section at the next session of Congress. In view of the fact that this harbor is intended to serve the commercial interests of the second city on the Pacific Coast, and of the great expense of territory tributary to Los Angeles, and in view of the further fact that this harbor will form the Pacific Coast outlet of the shortest and easiest route between the two oceans, there can be no reasonable excuse for Congress to deny us the moderate appropriation asked for the deepening of the inner harbor.

That the members of the Congressional Committee were favorably impressed by their visit to California is shown by a resolution which they adopted on their return to Washington, in the course of which they say:

"It (the committee) has been received by the citizens and commercial bodies, all of these places with a degree of courtesy and hospitality not anticipated by the members of the committee. It has been afforded every possible opportunity to see and learn the actual conditions of the rivers and harbors of California. We have been shown the developments and resources of California and placed in a position to properly appreciate its importance as one of the States of this Union. As individuals we are under the deepest obligations to the citizens of California for innumerable kindnesses and personal courtesies shown us at all times and under all circumstances while in the State."

Fortunately for us, the country at large is becoming deeply impressed with the importance to the United States of the Oriental trade. In order that this trade may properly be developed, it is evident that we must have good harbors on the Coast, and one of the principal of these is—or will be—San Pedro.

The Chicago Journal says that "a man took home some sticky fly paper and spread it out on two chairs. A few moments later he sat down in one of the chairs, but as soon as he saw he was 'it.' As the tangletoe was in a bad place to get at, he resorted to a trick which he picked up from the fly paper, and while busily engaged became tired and sat down in the other chair." Great Scott! Then what did he do?

WILLIAM'S NEW BEARD.

LONDON, July 25.—"Emperor William is letting his beard grow," says the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail. "His mustache is no longer of the straight, stiff shape, hitherto so familiar. The points are loose and the soft growing beard gives him a striking resemblance to his father."

THAT DRY PATH.

Los Angeles wheelmen have been upon a dry path for their special benefit by the Street Commissioner. The order is not being obeyed by a great many of the drivers of sprinkling carts. San Fernando street, the route which the greater majority of bicyclists living on the East Side use, is one mass of mud from the south end of the viaduct to the intersection of Main street, and from thence to the Temple Block. The continued deluge which is poured upon it by these don't-give-a-hell sprinkling-cart drivers, and there is apparently no intention of the driver that he should comply with the Street Commissioner's orders. A telephone complaint to that functionary's office yesterday elicited the information that "it was hard work to get the drivers to comply with the order, because they changed routes so often that they became careless about it."

The same condition exists elsewhere. A wheelman must either run his machine through mud and mire and "grin and bear it" or else dismount and walk. It is dangerous to life and limb to ride a bicycle upon any asphalt pavement in this city as the matter now stands.

If the bicyclists of Los Angeles intend to assert their rights and insist that the Street Commissioner live up to his promise, the time to agitate the matter is right now, while the subject is fresh in the mind of the public. Probably, is satisfied with the present condition of the streets for riding a bicycle.

The commissioner complains that patrons of the street cars object to the fact that a dry path is left between the tracks. Why not leave the tracks, then? Anything is preferable to the present evil.

The bicycle is no longer a pleasure machine merely. Thousands of people who cannot afford to patronize street cars or in an automobile. The bicycle is now a necessity of life. It is necessary to a man's business in these days as any other part of his equipment. A business of working man doesn't ride in a good car, but he can save car fare and convey himself rapidly where he wishes to go without loss of time; but when the streets are in a dangerous condition, and no attention whatever is paid to them to allow wheelmen a dry path, it is time "something was done."

"OUR SUMMER VACATION."

(IN SAN DIEGO.)
Yes, I've been camping this summer. And of course did not go alone. But the very best part of the entire trip was when we started for home. We were way up high in the mountains. At trout, head, tail and bone. But the fish that tasted the sweetest we ate as we started for home.

We had a fine tree for our camp. Near a spring bubbling under a stone; O, how cool that last drink tasted. Just as we started for home. There were lizards and snakes by the thousands. Ants, fleas and insects unknown. But somehow they all stopped biting. The day we started for home.

The "funny man" of our party. Got off pines that made us all groan. But somehow they all stopped biting. The morning we started back home. Our faces were rough and quite dirty. But somehow they all stopped biting. The morning we started back home. Our faces were rough and quite dirty. But somehow they all stopped biting. The morning we started back home.

STARTLING HANDWORK AT SANTA MONICA.

OPEN GRAVE AND BODY OF SAND ON THE BEACH.

Interest in the Carnival of Outdoor Sports That Will Open Next Week—Social Affairs the Order of the Day.

SANTA MONICA, July 24.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The subject of principal interest just now in the amusement line seems to be the carnival of sports which will begin next Wednesday, and which the tennis tournament beginning August 5.

The first item on the programme, which is to include a variety of outdoor sports will be the golf tournament. This the Ocean Park Country Club links have been made almost all that could be desired. Workmen have been engaged for several weeks constructing hazards, bunkers, obelisks and in every way preparing the links for an arena where thrilling play may be looked for. The best-known golfers of Southern California will try for the fine prizes which the club offer. The event will open on July 31, with a match play for the men of eighteen holes, and the finals will be thirty-six holes. Then the ladies will play a nine-hole match, the finals to be thirty-six holes. In the men's contest the players will be divided into two classes, with first and second prize for each.

Entrances may be made with Ed Tufts, Los Angeles, or with H. M. Grindley at the Ocean Park Country Club. The entrance fee is 25 cents; for women, 15.

CARD CLUB PARTY.

One of the most delightful social events of the season thus far was the card party given, this afternoon at the Japanese tea tent by the ladies of the Wednesday Afternoon Card Club. The interior of the large tent was ornate with potted plants, while carnations were used in profusion. About forty ladies attended, the winners of the prizes being as follows: First prize, a silver watch, Mrs. E. B. Loring; second prize, an Austrian salad bowl, Mrs. W. Dike; third prize, an iron scroll stand thermometer, Miss Alice Bock; consolation, a silver golf pin, Mrs. Patrick Robertson.

While the card games were still in progress, a very welcome visitor appeared in the person of Dr. Corson, J. McIvor Tyndall, who was immediately seated upon the ladies, and impromptu to demonstrate his occult power. This he did later on, by blind-folding and describing accurately their appearance and dresses, and also by finding a pin hidden in one of the ladies' hats and replacing it in a pin-hole previously punched.

GHOUSTLY SPECTACLE.

Many peculiar forms may be molded from the damp sand, and the children, time out of mind, have loved to build forts and houses and all manner of things from the sands of the sea, but never people saw a work of art so beautiful as the one which was built on the beach today which was molded by a master hand. A hole large enough to contain the body of a man had been scooped out in front of the bath-house, and in it, sure enough, was the body, cold and lifeless, but made of sand, and had such a creepy look that many women and some men would not take more than one glance at it. The name of the artist could not be learned, but it is hoped that he will not let his hand fashion anything so weird again in such a public place.

Market Opening. The band will play Friday night at the new public market, which will be formally opened with music, refreshments and "all promenade." Besides giving a concert from 8 till 10:30 p.m., the L.O.P. Band will play from 8 to 8:30 o'clock the next morning for the benefit of the farmers and early birds generally.

Scantling Felled Him. Herman Brock, who lives in East Los Angeles, was painfully injured yesterday at Hughes Bros' planing mill. A falling scantling struck him in the head, cutting a gash over the left eye. The wound was dressed at the Receiving Hospital.

Fresh Man Arrested. Peter Corrigan, a burly fellow not cursed with beauty, was arrested yesterday on Spring Street for insulting women. He carried a number, grabbing them by the arm and asking them if he knew them. Two women have identified him as the man who followed them home several nights ago.

Merchants' Meeting. The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association will hold a meeting tonight at their rooms in the Wilcox building to discuss the license ordinance. The subject is one of interest to business circles, and all merchants and manufacturers are invited to attend. Prospective membership in the association.

Chamber of Commerce. At the meeting of the board of directors yesterday, thanks were received from the Chamber of Commerce Committee for hospitality extended and a telegraphic invitation was ordered sent to the International Mining Congress, now in session at Boise City, Idaho, to meet in this city next year. M. B. Fassett was elected a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Released from Quarantine.

The Los Angeles Orphans' Home, at the corner of Yale and Alpine streets, was released from quarantine yesterday, and held a regular Fourth of July celebration with fireworks and ice cream. A number of friends of the home sent presents to the children to reward them for their good behavior. Next will come a series of picnics. The children will be given a trolley ride to Santa Monica tomorrow.

Two Vicious Dogs. Albert O'Brien of No. 210 North Anderson street was treated at the Receiving Hospital yesterday for a severe wound in the left hip. While in the river bottom he was attacked by a vicious dog which sprang upon and bit him before he could be driven off. Later in the day Harry Jordan of No. 1800 East Fourteenth street was brought to the hospital suffering from a similar injury in almost exactly the same place on his body.

Telegraph Officials. C. G. Sholes, general superintendent of telegraph, Santa Fe road; C. H. Bristol of the Western Union Telegraph Company in Chicago, and D. R. Davis of the San Francisco end of the same company, make up a party at the Westminster. They are here on a tour of inspection, and find the California service to have grown so that it is necessary immediately to supply more and heavier wires. The Santa Fe Railroad and the Western Union will each connect San Francisco and Chicago with a new copper wire.

Fingers Doctored. Three cases of mangled fingers were treated at the Receiving Hospital yesterday. Miss Grace Alberta got her left hand caught in a press at the Craig lithographing works, and the second, third and fourth fingers were crushed. E. H. Jones, an employee of the Llewellyn Iron Works, caught his left hand under a falling piece of iron and all of the fingers on that hand were painfully bruised and lacerated. Will Pauling, an employee of the Los Angeles Box Factory, jabbed a rip-saw against his hand and cut a large slice of flesh off his fingers.

Record's Crawfish Act. People are laughing at the crawling of the poor little Record on its laundry-strike feet. It is trying to get back for the strikers on any terms the jobs that it encouraged them to quit, and is trying to get the laundry owners to concede the ten-hour day. The facts are that there are precious few jobs for the Record's victims, as their places have generally all been filled; that the ten-hour day is in force, as before, and all the busy laundry workers are working under it; that the laundry owners stand today where they have stood all along; that there is no issue of hours or wages and never has been one; that there is no "trouble" to "settle"; that the laundry owners will not recognize the union; and that the Record is recognized by all who know it as a one-cent conspiracy, a shade cheaper than Gregory, eating its own vomit and trying to crawl into a hole that is too small for a half-starved plemire.

PREVENTING CONSUMPTION. Dr. Flick Thinks Koch's Demonstrations Will Hasten Measures to That End by the Government.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—Dr. Lawrence F. Flick, former president of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, and president of the Free Hospital for Poor Consumptives, when asked for his views on the subject of tuberculosis, said:

"The greatest benefit that will accrue from Dr. Koch's demonstration, if he has demonstrated what has been announced, will be the direction of preventive measures along the right channels. The government of this country has expended energy for the extermination of tuberculosis among cattle with a view of preventing the spread of the disease in human beings, but has done very little toward preventing the spread of the disease from one human being to another."

"With a clear demonstration that the disease cannot spread from animals to human beings, it is likely that the government's efforts will be turned into the channels of providing sanitarium treatment for the consumptive poor which will strike at the very root of the evil by preventing contact between the ill with tuberculosis and their healthy relatives."
